Enterprise Education and Research Project Fund

The 9th call for bids to the Enterprise Education and Research Project Fund is now open.

The Enterprise Education and Research Project Fund (EERPF) provides funding to:

- (i) support the creation of enterprise education materials and resources
- (ii) facilitate impactful research which adds to our understanding of enterprise education and addresses the needs of the wider enterprise education community.

Bids are invited from staff employed by organisations that are fully paid-up members of Enterprise Educators UK (EEUK) who can demonstrate capacity-building through collaboration between experienced and early career enterprise educators/practitioners. A successful EERPF project with appropriate dissemination can also support an applicant as evidence towards an EEUK Fellowship application.

We are keen to receive applications from FE Colleges, small and specialist HEIs, and non HE/FE members of EEUK. Such members may consider a collaborative proposal with an HE partner. International members are eligible to apply, jointly with a UK-based institution.

Bids will be reviewed and judged against the criteria below. Individuals are invited to submit single-institution bids of any size up to £5,000. Collaborative bids from two members (but not more than two) may request up to £7,500. Only one bid per institution can be funded in any year. The total fund available for this round is £25,000.

Details of the projects that are being funded in the current academic year can be found here.

Awards will not support full economic costing or additional salary payments to staff; only back-fill costs for staff will be supported.

Applicants will need to contact their Faculty/Service Finance Officer to have their project expenditure signed off prior to submission.

The closing date for applications is Midnight, Monday May 20th 2019 with notifications of awards given towards the end of June.

The Application Form is attached with this document. The completed application must be sent electronically to lynn@enterprise.ac.uk by midnight Monday May 20th. All submissions will be acknowledged by email. Hard copies are not required at the time of submission but will be requested from successful candidates before any payment is made.

Any queries regarding the bidding process should be directed to Kate Beresford, Kate@enterprise.ac.uk in the first instance.

Bids will be reviewed by a Panel convened by the Chair of Enterprise Educators UK and judged against the following criteria:

1) Alignment with the aims of EEUK: indicate at least 3 aims to which the project will make a significant contribution.

- To increase the scale, scope and effectiveness of enterprise education initiatives (curricular and/or extra-curricular) delivered by members of Enterprise Educators UK
- To develop new areas of applied enterprise education which link with the national focus on the needs of the economy and employers
- To encourage more inter-faculty/department enterprise education
- To underpin the curriculum with research in new and developing approaches to embedding enterprise education in the curriculum
- To provide evidence of the effectiveness and impact of enterprise education
- To provide mentoring of early career enterprise educators by more experienced staff.

2) How well the project will address one of the following EERPF priority themes OR another clearly identified key economic, educational or social policy area. Priority themes proposed for 2019 are:

- Contributing to the Knowledge Exchange Framework (KEF) agenda, in the Local Enterprise Partnership (LEP) context [where applicable in England]
- Internationalising enterprise education and partnerships in the context of Brexit
- Social innovation, enterprise, community engagement
- Enterprising learning in Further/Higher apprenticeships and vocational FE/HE collaboration
- Innovative approaches and applications using conceptual and policy frameworks in enterprise / entrepreneurship education, such as EntreComp; effectuation; Design Thinking.

3) Effectiveness of proposed method and project plan.

4) Effectiveness of proposed dissemination plan. This must include a plan for making the findings / outputs of the project available to the wider enterprise education community in a transferable format which they can use. This may, for example, include contributing to an EEUK Enterprise Exchange event; producing resources for the ETC Toolkit; via the ISBE/EEUK Community of Interest in Research in Enterprise Education \(REntED\); and by other means.

5) Realistic and effective use of funds – ‘value for money’ for EEUK and its membership.
