

UCL

How to mobilise a Community of Practice?

Justin Sawyer - Entrepreneurship Advisor

Entrepreneurship Community of practice co-lead

Why I joined as a co-lead?

- To connect and help link up entrepreneurial activity across the university.
- To promote activity and signpost to both staff, students & graduates.
- To meet students and staff from other areas of the university to collaborate and learn from.
- Knowledge exchange of resources and information.
- Creating better practices.

The value of having at Community of Practice?

- Working as a team to deliver projects, initiatives and events to our community.
- Community members develop new skills to support themselves and their colleagues.
- Provides awareness and exposure across both curricular and extra curricular areas of the university.
- Networking opportunities.
- Celebrating impact.

Supporting our Community of Practice

- Driven by the users of our community.
- Empower our community to take ownership of what they are involved with.
- Explore different ways of working.
- Looking for common solutions.
- Having content driven events.

Thank you

Please add me on LinkedIn if you have any questions about our CoP or email: justin.sawyer@ucl.ac.uk

Justin Sawyer

Entrepreneurship Advisor | Business Mentor
Programme Lead | UCL Innovation & Enterprise

